DECLARES WAR ON TRIPLE ENTENTE

BATTLE IN THE EAST

Amsterdam, Nov. 13—Turkey has declared war upon all nations of the Triple Entente, according to a message received here today from Constantinople via Berlin.

Petrograd, Nov. 13—Russia's attack on the strongly fortified city of Cracow has been begun by the vanguard of the great column from the north, according to unofficial advices reaching here today.

The last official announcement stated that the Russians were less than a score of miles away and military experts here agree that the expected attack on the Austrian stronghold is well under way.

With the occupation of Johannisburg, the Russian force secured the key to the railway lines along the border from Stallaponen, through Lyck, with Johannisburg as the southern terminal.

The advance toward Breslau is proceeding along the railroad toward Kalisz. Cavalry detachments have already reached this town, where fighting is reported.

In Galicia, the investment of Przemysl has been resumed, with the Russin army encircling the fortress on three sides. The southernmost point at Turka, with the line stretching northeast and then around to Rzeszow, to the west of Przemsyl.

Wounded in great numbers are being brought from the front, but all are cared for in the wonderfully equipped hospital trains now in service. Special cars are fitted out for the seriously wounded, in which hammocks are swung.

The wounded men are placed in these hammocks instead of on cots and are relieved of practically all jarring from the movement of the train owing to the fact that the hammocks are swung from side of the cars by springs.

THE COST OF VICTORY

Frightful Slaughter of Germans in Capturing Dixmude.

Paris Nov. 13—The Germans won Dixmude at frightful cost, according to a wounded officer brought to Paris today.

"The German attack began Saturday morning" he said "Monday evening when I was wounded, the enemy still was fighting fiercely for possession of the town. The attack was fearfully violent and our losses were heavy, but the Germans again suffered wholesale slaughter. My brigade exterminated 3,000 in an hour.

"Here is one incident I witnessed: "A Bavarian regiment advanced upon our trenches with standard displayed. When 300 yards distance we blazed a terrible fire into them, They retired, reformed and advanced again.

"We allowed them to come within a hundred yards this time before raking them, again driving them back.

"A third time the regiment advanced having lost two thirds of its effectives. I shouted the order, "Let them come Cease firing." Then, when they were 200 yards away, I gave the order to fire.

"Ten minutes later not a man was left standing of the entire regiment."

NEWS OF THE DAY

Paralyzed from the waist down, stricken with blindness, and racked by convulsions, 13 year old Grace Polhemus, daughter of Arthur Polhemus, manager of the Knickerbocker Ice Company, of Brooklyn, is going to die—unless a miracle of science intervenes—because a mad cat bit her one year and twenty days ago.

War news derived from purely psychic sources s contained in the Occult Messenger of London as follows: "The United States, the most unlikely people of all, will put a finger in the Turkish pie, Greece, Bulgaria, and Russia will be in Constantinople at Christmas. In the third and fourth weeks in November Russia will assuredly be victorious and tread German soil on the way to Berlin. The allies will make unexpected progress during the latter part of November. New guns are making their appearance to smash German forts. New invention in French aviation seems to increase allies' tactical superiority and throw dismay in retreating Teuton ranks. German losses are appalling, over 1,800,000 being already put out of action on both her frontiers."

John Evans and William Schreiner, coal miners, who had been imprisoned for four days behind a huge fall of coal in a mine near Pottsville, Pa., in which they were working, were rescued alive. The men were found huddled together in a blind heading. They had been without food and water, but were able to talk. They said they chewed their boots and flannel shirts to stave off the pangs of hunger and thirst, and were able to keep track of time by removing the crystals from their watches. They rapped continually, but no sound was heard by the rescuers.

The French steamer Duchesse de Guicht has foundered in the Havre radstead during a gale. Eleven persons were drowned.

F. W. Rhinman, publisher of the Times-Union, of Jacksonville. Fla. was killed; Captain Ingram, of the Clyde liner Mohawk, seriously wounded, and C. Wright, of Utica N. Y., badly wounded by E. C. Perkins, who is thought to have become suddenly insane on board the Mohawk at sea Wednesday night. The Mohawk arrived at Charleston yesterday with her passengers in a panic. Perkins was still asleep from the effects of headache powders which crazed him, it is believed, and was taken to the insane asylum. A wireless call brought help from a torpedo boat at 5 a. m. yesterday on the North Carolina coast.

A jury in the United States District Court in New York returned a verdict for the defendant yesterday in the $50,000 slander suit brought by Mrs. Marion W. Brashears, secretary of the Favary Tire and Cushion Company, against Mrs. Susan B. Smith, the "Hetty Green of the Northwest." At the same time the foreman of the jury, Alexander Stone, handed to Judge Hand a statement clearing Mrs. Brashears' reputation of the stigma of improper conduct with the Rev. Hudson Baker and other men in Mrs. Denny's boarding house in Portland, Oregon. The verdict of the jury does not absolve the defendant of having told alleged damaging stories concerning Mrs. Brashears. It takes into consideration merely the judge's charge that Mrs. Smith had a perfect right to repeat these second handed stories in good faith to her protege, Miss Case.

Field Marshal Lord Roberts, of Kandahar, is going to France. The official announcement in London making this fact public says the famous general is going into the war zone "to see the Indian troops."

The London Standard's Copenhagen correspondent says that the Kaiser has clipped off the upstanding ends of his mustache which makes a startling change in the monarch's appearance. The loss of the aggressively erected mustache extremities robs William II of his former almost ferocious martial appearance, and stamps on his face a dejected expression. It was observed some time after the beginning of the war that the kaiser's hair had turned much whiter but no one paid much attention to this.

FIGHTING AT CLOSE QUARTERS

MANY NIGHT ATTACKS

Entire Regiments of Kaiser's Troops Mowed Down in Attempts to Storm British Positions.

Paris, Nov. 13—Desperate fighting at close quarters, with infantry attacks being made under cover of terrific artillery fire, now marks the fighting from the coast of Ypres.

The allied lines, despite greatest pressure from the enemy, still holds in the form of an obtuse triangle. Its base resting upon Nieuport and Ypres with the apex at Dixmude.

The crack first line troops of the Germans are being hurled against the British and French, who are disputing their advance to the sea. Their losses have been terrific in the mass attacks along the Yser.

It is admitted today that the line is being held only at heavy cost to the allies.

Night attacks have been frequent during the week, but all have been repulsed The last official statement declares the Germans have been driven back from the Yser along the entire line except at one point, the location of which is not stated. There the Germans hold less than 1,000 yards, it is stated.

London, Nov. 13—With all reports including the official statement of the war bureau, telling of the desperate fighting in Belgium, it is believed that the attempt of the Germans to hack their way to the coast is reaching a climax.

Having advanced from Nieuport to Lombaertzyde along the coast, the allies continue to press their offensive. Dispatches from Rotterdam quote refugees as declaring they saw allied forces entering Ostend, but no official confirmation has come from the war office.

Entire regiments of Germans attempting to storm the British positions in massed formation, have been wiped out, say reports from the front The casualties of the enemy are placed as high as 90,000 in some reports and it is declared that the German forces at the beginning of the drive toward the coast numbered 500,000.

SERIOUS DISSENSION.

Trouble Between Austrians And Germans in East Prussia.

Petrograd, Nov. 13.—Serious dissension has arisen between General Dankl, commanding the Austrian forces and the German generals. If these tendencies continue to increase with the same rapidity as in the past month it is quite conceivable that Austria may break with her ally and seek an independent peace.

The entire German policy in Poland, it is aleged, is to relegate to the Austrian rear guards all the worst positions in the fighting.

It is becoming rapidly obvious to many Austrians that their cause is hopelessly impaired and that they are now being used by the Germans as a buffer between themselves and the advancing Russians.

The Austrians are believed to be sick of the war nad have no heart in its further prosecution.

It is admitted semi-officially that it was the failure of the German Crown Prince to hold his position in the center which compelled a retreat along the whole line. While General Von Hindenburg on the left and the Austrians on the right were both maintaining their positions, the Crown Prince's army broke.

WILSON REBUKES NEGRO

President Resents Offensive Remarks By Boston Black.

Washington, Nov. 13—President Wilson's Southern blood reached the boiling point yesterday. Offensively addressed by a Boston negro who called at the White House at the head of a delegation of negroes protesting against race segregation in the departments, President sharply rebuked him. The President told him that if the organization which he represented the national Independence Equal Rights League, ever expected to get another audience at the White House it would have to select another spokesman.

At the outset of the hearing the President gave the negroes every opportunity to present their formal address—and each had one. Although the day's schedule of visitors limited the hearing to 15 minutes, the President listened to the delegation for nearly an hour.

At the close of their remarks, in which they contended that the negro was being degraded by being separated from the white Government employes, the President replied that it was his desire and intention to see that the negro employes were not discriminated against by being forced to work in uncomfortable surroundings. He declared that since the delegation had appeared before him a year ago he had come to the conclusion that for the best interest of both races and in order to avoid racial friction it was better to have the white and colored employes separated.

He added that he was pleased at the progress which the colored men were making in developing their race along independent, self-supporting lines, and believed that it was as much to their advantage as it was to the advantage of the white clerks in the departments to have them separated.

At the close of the President's remarks William Monroe Trotter, who seemed to be master of ceremonies for the delegation, attempted to cross examine the President. Despite the President's show of displeasure, the negro persisted and is such a manner as to call forth the President's rebuke.

On leaving the White House, Trotter announced that the delegation would hold a mass meeting Sunday afternoon at a local negro church to protest against the President's refusal to abolish segregation.

Trotter gathered the members of his delegation about him in the corridor outside the President's office and boasted that the "session" with the President had been a "warm one" Declaring that he had made it plain to the President that the black race was the equal of the white under the law, he stated that in replying to the President's statement defending the practice of segregation, he had told the President that his (the President's) remarks concerning racial friction were not founded on facts.

"I told him," said Totter, "that negroes and whites had been working side by side in the departments for 50 years, a part of the time during a Demoratic administration, and that it was not until the present Administration came in that segregation was drastically introduced, and then only because of the racial prejudice of John Skelton Williams, McAdoo and Burleson."

RUSH MORE TO FRONT

Recruiting Becomes Active—Steady Flow of Volunteers—Great Britain Expects to Have 2,000,000.

London, Nov. 13—England was staggered today by an announcement from Premier Asquith stating that the British casualities in the war to date are 57,000 killed, wounded and missing.

With this toll paid in the fighting so far, more men are to be rushed to the front. A supplementary estimate from the war office today declared that with 1,000,000 more men the total British strength of all ranks would be 2,186,400.

Recruiting has increased to a great extent during the last week. It is expected that Premier Asquith will formally seek the sanction of parliament for the raising of these 1,000,000 additional troops.

The statement of the premier placing the casualties at approximately 57,000 was written in reply to inquiries from members of the house of commons.

MOUNTAIN AS MEMORIAL

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 13—Approval of a suggestion that Stone Mountain near Atlanta, Ga., be made into a memorial to the Confederate soldiers was given here yesterday in resolutions adopted by the Daughters of the Confederacy at their annual general convention. No further action however, was taken.

Mrs. Daisy MacLaurin Stevens, of Brandon, Miss., was re-elected president general of the organization. All other officers were re-elected with the exception of Mrs. Edward Carnabel, of New Orleans, corresponding secretary-general. She announced her desire to retire, and Mrs. W. F. Baker, of Savannah, was elected to succeed her.

John Temple Graves, of New York and Atlanta, addressed the convention to-day, suggesting that Stone Mountain be made a memorial to the Southern soldiers in the War Between the States.

Stone Mountain is an isolated, dome shaped granite rock which has an altitude of about 2,200 feet above the level of the sea. On the north side is a sheer declivity that rises or falls from 900 to 1,000 feet. It is proposed to have engineers cut a projection thirty feet wide and 100 feet deep into this side of the mountain and then have a sculptor chisel a heroic statue of the Confederate soldier, in the possible resemblance to Robert E. Lee the Confederate leader.

Selection of a convention city for 1915 is expected to made to-morrow. Nashville, Tenn., and San Francisco are the chief contenders.

Other officers elected were:

Recording secretary-general, Mrs. F. M. Williams, Newton, N. C.

Treasurer-general Mrs. C. B. Tate Pulaski, Va.

Bryan an Early Visitor to White House—Cannot Persuade Carranza to Accept Conditions.

Washington, Nov. 13—Apparently determined if possible to make the United States take a hand in supporting him in his attitude of defiance towards Gutierrez, the new provisional president of Mexico, General Carranza has moved his revolutionary government to Cordova, less than forty-five miles from Vera Cruz.

If he is driven back by the attacking forces of General Villa, it is possible that he will fall back on the American outposts at Vera Cruz. This would put up to the United States the delicate proposition of either supporting Carranza or dragging him into the hands of his enemy.

The whole situation presented by his new move of the wily first chief of the constitutionalists has caused considerable perplexity among officials of the War Department. Inasmuch as Cordova is no more impregnable to an attack than Mexico City, officials here can only interpret the new move as an attempt to force the United States to take a hand.

Secretary of State Bryan was an early visitor at the White House this morning.

Although he refused to state what was the object of his call he is understood to have told the President that all attempts to persuade Carranza to accept the new order in Mexico have been unavailing.

These efforts he is quoted as saying have been made by some of the closest friends of Carranza.

On the other hand it is suggested that Carranza may himself be contemplating an attack on Vera Cruz in an effort to stir up popular sympatny for him throughout Mexico.

Washington, Nov. 3.—An unidentified woman, about seventy five year old, was knocked down by an automobile truck and instantly killed at Pennsylvania avenue and Eighth street northwest, this morning.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD

Lysander Hill, Prominent Figure in Alexandria Years Ago, Passes Away In Chicago.

Lysander Hill, for some time a leading member of the Illinois bar, died at Chicago on the 30th ultimo, after an illness of several years. The deceased was born in Maine, near Rockland, in 1834. He was a captain of the Twentieth Maine Regiment of Infantry during the civil war, but after the battle of Antietam he was retired from service on account of disabilities received in that campaign.

Having entered upon the practice of law in Washington and Alexandria in 1864, he was subsequently appointed to be judge of the Circuit Court of the Eighth judicial district of Virginia, with headquarters at Alexandria. Retiring from the bench, he formed a brief law partnership for the practice of patent law with his classmate, Judge Ellis Spear, of Washington.

Called to Chicago in 1881 as counsel in a suit at law, he took up his residence in that city, where he soon became a leading authority in patent law practice. He was elected president of the Patent Bar Association of Chicago, which position he held until his retirement on account of illness.

Lysander Hill will be remembered by many Alexandrians. He was one of our attorneys from the northern section of the country who took up their residence in Alexandria during the war between the States. He was cotemporary with Westel Willoughby, George Tucker, Charles Whittlesey and others of the legal profession who figured here during and for some time after the close of hostilities.

Tucker ran for Mayor in 1867, (before universal suffrage went into effect.) Negroes were not allowed to vote, and the late Hugh Latham was declared elected to succeed himself. Tucker on election day opened polls of his own and marshaled all the negroes in Alexandria at his booths. He claimed he received more votes than Latham, and demanded the keys of the Mayor's office. He failed to obtain them, although the city was under military government at the time.

The late Judge Thomas, of Fairfax, was Judge of the Circuit Court at that time, he having succeeded E. K. Snead, who was war judge. Thomas was deposed by the military government and Lysander Hill was appointed in his place. Later Willoughby succeeded Hill.

FOUL PLAY IS SUSPECTED

The remains of the soldier who was found in Big Hunting Creek, near the bridge of the Washington-Virginia Railway Company, was identified as Private James F. Walch, Company A., of the engineering corps of the United States army, stationed at Washington barracks. His body was removed to Washington yesterday in the police boat Vigilant and taken to the district morgue.

The body was found by N. B. Williamson, a lineman, who says that the man was lying on his back with a cigar in one hand and his cap in the other.

Captain King, commanding the company to which Walsh belonged, says that Walsh bore a splendid record in the service, that he was a man of steady habits and kept good company. He left the barracks on permission Wednesday attired in his best dress uniform to visit friends in Washington. What he was doing on the southern outskirts of Alexandria, along Hunting Creek, an isolated section, has raised the suspicion that he met with foul play; that he had been assaulted and robbed and his body thrown into the creek.

Justice of the Peace Artuhr Kirby, of Fairfax county, in whose jurisdiction the body of Walsh was found, probably will hold an inquest into the case. Captain King says that the army officers will appoint a commission to make the fullest investigation into the causes of Walsh's death. An autopsy under the personal direction of a board of army physicians was conducted at the District morgue to determine whether Walsh was murdered before his body was thrown into the creek and it was found that death resulted from drowning.

EARLY MORNING FIRE

Unoccupied Frame House Believed to Have Been Set Afire.

That there is a fire-bug in Alexandria, who is responsible for the large number of fires that have recently occured in unoccupied houses is the belief of the Alexandria authorities, and close search will be made to discover the guilty party.

Another fire at the corner, of Cronoco and Royal Streets this morning in a two story frame house, which was unoccupied, is the last of a large number of mysterious fires which have occured in the outskirts of the city during the past three or four months.

Last winter there was a similar epidemic of fires, but the police were unable to discover who was responsible.

The damage this morning amounted to about $500, the loss being covered by insurance.

Child Burned to Death.

Danville, Va., Nov. 13.—News reached here last night of the burning of the 6 year old daughter of Charles Wells, near Union Hill not far from this city, early yesterday evening. The child's clothes, caught fire from a kitchen stove while she was alone. In an instant she was ablaze and in her pain ran outside where the flames were fanned. When found she was burned all over and died in two hours.

THREE FINGERS SEVERED.

The Manassas Journal says that word was received in Manassas this week that William P. Meredith had three fingers severed while motoring last Saturday evening. He in company with his wife were on the out skirts of Washington, when in some way his hand was caught in the gears, three fingers being cut off and probably he will lose the remaining two. Upon reaching within five miles of Washington a taxicab was sent for and he was hurried to a hospital where an operation was performed. Mr. Meredith is well known in Alexandria.

MUST SERVE TEN YEARS.

Court of Appeals Denies Writ of Error in Mrs. Hall's Case.

Richmond, Nov. 13.—Mrs. Elizabeth Hall, sentenced to the penitentiary for ten years for murdering her husband, Victor Hall, at Green Spring Depot, in Louisa county, on the morning of April 14th, was yesterday denied a writ of error by the Supreme Court of Appeals.

The announcement was made from the bench by Judge Richard H. Cardwell, acting president in the absence of Judge Keith.

This decision estops further proceedings in the case. Mrs. Hall must go to the penitentiary immediately and begin serving her term. An order will be prepared and transmitted to the clerk of the Louisa Circuit Court, who will call for the surrender of Mrs. Hall by her bondsmen. Accompanied by a penitentiary guard, Mrs. Hall will then be brought to Richmond and committed to prsion.

Since her conviction Mrs. Hall has spent the greater part of her time at Louisa Courthouse, though she has made numerous visits to the home of Victor's parents near Green Spring Depot.

Mrs. Hall's trial consumed eleven days. It was one of the most bitterly fought in the criminal annals of the state. Mrs. Hall was represented by Gordon & Gordon, of Louisa, and Hill Carter, of this cty. The Commonwealth was represented by William Bibb, assisted by M. J. Fulton, of Richmond.

The evidence upon which Mrs. Hall was convicted was purely circumstantial. There was no absolute and positive proof that she murdered her husband, but the jury, after hearing the evidence, did not believe that Victor Hall was killed by anyone else; they believed that, despite the absence of "eye witnesses proof" all reasonable doubt of innocence was removed.

Mystery of the deepest sort surrounded the murder of the Green Spring merchant, and it is doubtful if the grewsome details of the tragedy will ever be known.

Mrs. Hall swore to the last that her husband had been killed by a mid night intruder. She at first said the murderer was a burglar. Later she indicated that she might know the identity of the murderer, but she refused to name him.

Negro Lynched by Mob.

St. Petersburg, Fla., Nov. 13.—John Evans, a negro, was taken from the city prison here by a mob last night and hanged to a nearby telephone pole. The negro was suspected of having shot and killed Edward F. Sherman, of Camden, N. J. winter residents here, and of having attacked Mrs. Sherman.

"The Thinkers of the Country Are the Tobacco Chewers"—

Says the Ball Player:

"There wouldn't be many double plays pulled off, if we players didn't think pretty straight and quick and right. We need snap judgment but it's got to be good judgment too.

"We can't afford to get up in the air except when the ball's up there.

"That's why we use PICNIC TWIST instead of a dark, heavy tobacco. PICNIC TWIST is mild and it's better than water for keeping you from getting dry."

Men everywhere are finding that there's all the tobacco satisfaction in a mild, sweet, long lasting chew of PICNIC TWIST without the "comeback" on the nerves, found in strong tobacco.

MEN FOLLOW WILLIAM LIKE THEY DID FREDERICK.

Parallels in history are always interesting.

Mary Platt Parmele i nher "Short History of Germany," tells of the eagerness with which the Prussians rallied to the standard of the Great Frederick just as they are now filling the ranks of Emperor Willam, answering each call with a fanaticism that is even more remarkable now than it was a century ago.

It was during the Third Silescian War, better known as the Seven Years' War, (1757-1764), when England and a few small German states were nominally the allies of Frederick but he practically stood alone as George II heartily disliked him and half of Europe was allied against him.

There were great victories and great defeats during the seven years that followd the outbreak of hostilities.

There were times when the cause of Prussia seemed lost, and other times when that of the allies appeared hopeless. But the tide of victory more often set towards Frederick's standard than that of his adversaries. He defeated the Austrians at Prague; the Imperial and French army at Rossbach; a Russian army at Zorndorf, and these and a hundred other names stand in the annals of Prussia for monumental courage, daring and sacrifice.

But we are drifting from our subject. What Miss Parmele says follows:

"In the confused narrative of advancing and retreating armies, of battles and slaughter, but one distinct impression prevails. That is amazement—amazement that so many thousands were willing at the bidding of one ambitious man to die, to lay down their bodies in that heap of dead for Prussia's greatness, to rise upon!

"That not one was ready to reproach him for having brought these calamities upon them for the sake of Silescia; but instead with twenty thousand still lying unburied on one field, that they respond with infatuated enthusiasm to his appeal for more!"

TROTTER MADE TO TROT.

The action of President Wilson when besieged by a delegation of negroes at the White House yesterday will be affirmed by the great mass of the Anglo-Saxon race. The executive while allowing but fifteen minutes' time to his other interviewers, gave this party of negroes an hour of his time, and after he had so logically given his reasons for the segregation of members of that race in government places, the loquacious spokesman, Trotter, attempted to cross question the President. Mr. Wilson's prompt action in bringing the interview to a sudden close was exactly what he should have done, and in notifying the Boston blacks that if they desired any further business at the White House it would be necessary for them to select another mouth piece was in every way proper.

While in some sections of the country there is no objection on the part of white people to mingle with negroes, people living south of Mason and Dixon's line see the wisdom of segregation from the many annoyances to which they are so often subjected. Richmond has recently come to the conclusion that the time has arrived when separate waiting rooms at depots should be arranged for colored patrons. A few years ago white females traveling between Alexandria and Washington were compelled to sit in the same seats with negroes. The latter spread out all over the cars and preempted seats at windows, and white women had their choice of standing up or of sitting by the side of a black. The Virginia Legislature was compelled to pass a law segregating the races on our electric railway which was followed in other sections of the state.

Many Alexandria young ladies are employed in government departments in Washington. They have at times been forced to work alongside of negroes and appreciate segregation. They naturally rejoire that the Boston delegation made no progress in their attempts to bring about another order of things.

FIGHTING ON BOTH CONTINENTS.

For a time, after the great war in Europe began, Mexico became more tranquil, and it was hoped that conditions in that country were about to become of a more pacific nature. Preparations were being made to remove United States vessels from Vera Cruz, as the people of the land of Montezuma seemed disposed to stop fighting among themselves. The world, has, however, been disappointed, as there is about to be as much disorder as ever, and, that, too, within a short time. Rival factions, urging each other's claims, are still making conditions in Mexico unsatisfactory, not only to the United States, but to all lovers of peace in the southern republic. The cloud which hovers over the unhappy country is hanging low, and the mutterings from it are ominous.

Dispatches from Europe state that Turkey has formally announced her purpose to enter the present war in Europe on the side of Germany. This act of the Porte is viewed with uneasiness by the allies.

The fighting now in progress in the attempts of the Kaiser's army to reach the North Sea coast is probably the most sanguinary in the history of the world. Emperor William's order —"take Calais or Dunkirk regardless of cost of lives or munitions" is being carried out, and thousands of Teutons and allies are stretched dead and wounded upon the battle field. It is said that entire regiments have been eliminated. The Kaiser's losses are placed at ninety thousand. The losses among the allies also reach alarming figures.

TUBERCULOSIS

In addition to plenty of fresh air and proper diet, those suffering from or who are predisposed to Tuberculosis are recommended to use Eckman's Alterative to stop night sweats, banish fever and hasten recovery. This medicine, by reason of its successful use during the past, warrants the fullest investigation possible by every sufferer.

Eckman's Alterative is most efficacious in bronchial catarrh and severe throat and lung affections, and in upbuilding the system. It contains no narcotics, nor harmful or habit-forming drugs. Accept no substitutes. Sold by leading druggists. Write to the Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for booklet telling of recoveries.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—adull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

CHARACTERISTIC ORDER

Petrograd, Nov. 13—A characteristic order issued by Emperor William to his troops has been found upon a German soldier wounded in East Prussia. It is as follows:

"Dear faithful soldiers: You have not forgotten the day when crafty barbarous Russia, having secretly prepared to attack our fair and peaceful fatherland, mobilized her troops and moved toward our frontier. That same day I, in fulfillment of my duty and prompted by the best interests of the country decided in conjunction with my government, to defend our land to the last drop of our blood.

"With this defensive purpose I was compelled to move my valorous troops into France, which, as an ally of Russia, was preparing to strike a blow at us on our western frontier.

"Thanks to the valor of my heroes France has been severely punished. Belgium, which interfered with our attack, has been added to the glorious provinces of Germany. From the course of military events you know that the punitive expedition into Russia has also been a brilliant success.

"But although we obtained due requital for the affront on patriotic Germany, we must now turn to the new task of protecting our hearths, which moribund France and barbarous Russia are making ready to attack. Henceforward military operations will take another form which will soon be intelligible to you, my dear valiant soldiers.

"My heroes, that hour of trial has now come. It is necessary to concentrate all our energies on the repulse of our enemies, for otherwise Germany will be transformed from a magnificent free country into an enslaved degraded province of Russia and France.

"If Germany is dear to you—if your families are dear to you—if your culture, your faith, your nation your Emperor, are dear to you, you will offer the enemy worthy resistance..

"Not one step backward into our country. Remember, behind us destruction is threatening and it is only before us that our happiness lies.

"For your country. for glory; forward, my dear, my faithful friends."

IRATE SUFFRAGETTES

Black List of Congressional Committee Referred to.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 13—The mailed fist is to replace the gloved hand as the policy of the National American Woman Suffrage Association in dealing with Senators and Representatives opposed to suffrage extension and humanitarian measures, if a spirited row in the afternoon session of the convention of that body here yesterday is a true indication of the feeling of the delegates.

The famous so called "Blacklist" of the Congressional committee of the national suffrage body was responsible for the trouble.

The Illinois delegation, rising to the defense of Representative Mann, minority leader of the House, precipitated the storm. In the discussion which followed, Representative Mann and Senator Lodge of Massachusetts were assailed without stint by Mrs. Medill McCormick, chairman of the congressional committee.

Senator Lodge was defended by two members of the Massachusetts delegation and attacked by three of their associates.

Weak Lungs Often Lead to Serious Illness

If you have weak lungs, you are generally subject to colds or throat trouble and easily susceptible to serious Lung Trouble. In many cases pneumonia or bronchial troubles leave the lungs in a much weakened condition. Eckman's Alterative is a medicine for the throat and lungs which has been found to be very beneficial, even when a change of climate and other treatments failed to bring relief. Read of this case:—

231 S. Atlantic Ave., Haddonfield, N. J. "Gentlemen: In the fall of 1905 I contracted a very severe cold which settled on my lungs. At last I began to raise sputum, and my physician then told me I must go to California immediately. At this time I was advised to take Eckman's Alterative. I stayed at home and commenced taking it the last week in October. I began to improve, and the first week in January, 1906, I resumed my regular occupation, having gained 25 pounds, fully restored to health. It is now seven years since my recovery has been effected, and I cannot praise Eckman's Alterative too highly."

(Signed) W. M. TATEM.

(Above abbreviated; more on request.) Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists

BELGIAN RELIEF COMMITTEE.

Governor Stuart Names Ten Virginians for Board.

Richmond, Nov. 13—Governor H. C. Stuart announced last night the appointment of the following Belgian Relief Committee for the State of Virginia:

Homer L. Ferguson, Newport News.
S. Herth Tyler, Norfolk.
John Stewart Bryan, Richmond.
Charles T. Lassiter, Petersburg.
Rev. J. Cleveland Hall, Danville.
William S. Buttle, Roanoke.
Harry F. Byrd, Winchester.
J. Frank Wysor, Pulaski.
Alexander Robertson, Staunton.

The movement, the Governor states, is not intended either to supplant or to interfere with relief work of local organizations, but is in a aid of such efforts throughout the State to the extent of providing an agency for assembling at a central point and providing free transportation to Belgium of all donations and subscriptions, whether from organizations co operating with this central board or individuals.

The governor realizes that no country has a deeper conception of the ruin and devastation of war than Virginia, nor a deeper sympathy for those whose homes have been laid waste and who are now facing immediate starvation.

CORNS QUIT, PAINS STOP, WITH "GETS-IT."

Quit Plasters, Salves and What-Not

After using "Gets-It" once you will never again have occasion for asking, "What can I do to get rid of my corns," "Gets-It" is the first sure, certain corn ender ever known.

If you have tried other things by the score and will now try "GETS-IT" you will realize this glorious fact.

You probably are tired stickling on tape that won't stay stuck, plasters that shift themselves right onto your corn, contraptions that make a bundle of your toe and press right down on the corn. Put two drops of "GETS-IT" on that corn in two seconds. The corn is then doomed as sure as night follows day. The corn shrivels. There's no pain, no fuss. If you think this sounds too good to be true try it tonight on any corn, callus, wart or bunion.
